Weinberg, Wheeler, Hudgins, Gunn & Dial's Las Vegas office serves as the Firm's hub for various litigation matters in the western United States, as well as serving clients across the country. The Las Vegas office's attorneys have represented clients in a variety of legal matters including construction disputes, personal injury claims, premises liability cases, insurance coverage opinions, transportation litigation and multiple other legal issues.

The Firm's Las Vegas office has counseled clients on high-profile, high-stakes claims involving casinos, entertainment groups, and other organizations and companies that are central to the Las Vegas business community. The Firm uses the latest technology and services to facilitate communication with its Las Vegas area clients whose businesses operate around the clock. The attorneys within the office have built long-term relationships with their clients through their dedication and emphasis on quick, favorable results.

The Las Vegas attorneys are leaders within the state of Nevada. Resident attorney Lee Roberts was recently inducted into the Nevada Law Foundation Colleagues as a Benefactor.
