Terry Sullivan to Co-Chair State Bar Committee on the Judiciary

December 2, 2005

WWHGD partner Terry Sullivan has been appointed co-chair of the State Bar of Georgia's Committee on the Judiciary. He will serve alongside Judge Bonnie Chessher Oliver of the Northeastern Superior Court.

This committee is charged with enhancing the judicial system through long-term strategic planning. Committee members hail from around the state and include solo and small firm practitioners, medium and large firm attorneys, judges, and legislators.

Also a committee member, Cheryl F. Custer, who serves as Executive Director of the Judicial Qualifications Commission that investigates complaints of ethical misconduct by Georgia judges, noted, "This committee plays an important role in our judicial process. We are fortunate to have Terry and Bonnie guiding the group's efforts."
